Fort Collins, CO- Firefighters responded to a call of a commercial building on fire just after 3:30 a.m. this morning. Upon arrival of the first units they found a four story condominium building under construction with the 3rd and 4th floors fully involved in fire. Additionally the fire was exposing an occupied four story mixed-use building located at 204 Maple St.. Firefighters immediately called for a second alarm and attacked the main fire while protecting the exposed building. A third alarm was called shortly thereafter. Firefighters initially attacked the fire in the 204 Maple occupancy from the inside, however they could not bring it under control. As the fire was being attacked from the interior firefighters also searched for occupants to ensure nobody was trapped. All occupants escaped without injury. Firefighters had to be evacuated from the building as conditions became too dangerous. The fire was then attacked from the exterior using aerial ladder trucks. At one point the ladder trucks were pouring on approximately 4,000 gallons of water per minute on the fire.

The fire completely destroyed the initial building. The exposure building suffered a large amount of fire damage to the roof along with smoke, heat and water damage to the fourth floor occupancies. The remainder of the building suffered heavy water damage related to extinguishment efforts.

PFA investigators are currently on scene. No additional information is available at this time.

Assisting agencies included Fort Collins Light & Power, Police Services, Loveland Fire Rescue, Poudre Valley Hospital Ambulance and Red Cross.
